78 Gsef: an international organization with local roots

Illustration on cover – The visual incorporates certain symbols from the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) set by the UN and brought together in the 2030 Agenda. The SSE plays a central role in achieving these goals, as recognized by the UN resolution of 18 April 2023. Bordeaux GSEF 2025 will be an important milestone on this journey.

The global SSE Forum Bordeaux GSEF 2025

In autumn 2025, the Global Social and Solidarity Economy Forum will be held for the first time in France, following editions in Seoul, Montreal, Bilbao, Mexico City and Dakar. This major biennial international event brings together all stakeholders in the Social and Solidarity Economy ecosystem.

The objective?

To share visions and practices that can make the SSE the «norm that will regulate the economy of tomorrow», giving priority to people and collective projects over capital and structuring an economy based on proximity and the long term.

This 7th edition will take place from 29 to 31 October 2025 in Bordeaux, whose mayor is also President of the GSEF. It is organized by the City of Bordeaux in conjunction with the Nouvelle-Aquitaine Region, the Gironde Department, Bordeaux Métropole and CRESS Nouvelle-Aquitaine, in close collaboration with the GSEF General Secretariat.

Each edition of the Global Forum on the SSE:

- pursues a political objective by bringing together elected officials and leaders from around the world, international experts, development agencies, networks and actors in the field who are committed to promoting this human-centred and environmentally friendly economy. A final declaration sets out the political commitments, which are translated into a roadmap for the next two years.
- promotes the exchange of experiences and expertise implemented on all continents. Successful innovations led by local governments and all actors involved in the SSE are highlighted through a dense and coconstructed programme.

Bordeaux GSEF 2025 is an important milestone on the path to achieving sustainable development goals. With five years to go until Agenda 2030, it must enable us to bring together civil society and local authorities to take action, challenge decision-makers and accelerate the transition.

This is all the more crucial given that the world today faces numerous threats: wars, authoritarian regimes, economic turmoil, social conflicts, ecological disasters, etc. We need to show that another world is possible and that it already exists.

The Scientific Committee is therefore proposing a rich programme based on a strong theme and opening the door to a variety of sub-themes, fuelled by contributions from around the world.

Beyond the exchange site, the Forum extends in time and space thanks to regional itineraries, as well as a cultural programme and the promotion of the SSE for everyone, both participants and the general public.

Open to the city, Bordeaux GSEF 2025 is an opportunity to highlight the SSE in what it is and what it can be, present in the daily lives of residents, in order to demonstrate its strengths in serving the common good. Bridges are also being built with conventional economic actors to spread the values of the SSE and raise awareness of its contributions to the regions.

Bordeaux GSEF 2025, a lively, invigorating, welcoming and engaging Forum.

The Forum Exhibition hall

An essential part of this Forum, the Exhibition Hall serves multiple purposes. It is the place where you can discover the 60 stands where organizers, partners and exhibitors will be happy to present their activities and initiatives.

But it is also a place where you can meet up to chat, with or without a drink, where you can continue your reflections by buying books or listening to a live radio broadcast, and where you can create your own souvenir postcard of the Forum or posters promoting your cause. And to give your ears a rest, there are three exhibitions waiting to be explored.

The worst excuse

Sorry Children is a project run by the association of the same name, established under the French law of 1901. Its aim is to raise awareness of the responsibility that each of us has in the (de) construction of our society and to propose concrete actions. The excuse generator is itself an excuse to convince people to take action.

— 3 EXHIBITIONS TO DISCOVER —

Back to Selma

— Ken Wong-Youk-Hong

In March 1965, in Selma, thousands of protesters led by Martin Luther King fought against electoral segregation, despite police violence. In 2023, Ken Wong-Youk-Hong set out to meet the 1965 protesters still living in this Alabama town. That same year, he also went to explore the legacy of the Atlanta-born pastor and activist by interviewing young people in New York City.

Faire la Diff.

— Glwadys Le Moulmier

Designed as a sensitive, visual and participatory installation, the exhibition showcases the faces, actions and dynamics of the SSE in France and elsewhere. The project is part of an eco-responsible and circular approach: all the modules used are reused from old exhibition structures. The photographs, printed on fabric, will be transformed after the Forum by local seamstresses.

Mixité des Métiers

— Olivier Poggianti

This original photographic work by Olivier Poggianti, supported by the Ballast association, focuses on the issue of women's representation in professions dominated by men. Its aim is to raise their visibility in the world of work. It is a cross-disciplinary artistic project combining cultural engineering, social innovation and digital mediation.

●● Plenary sessions

13 plenary sessions

With 13 plenary sessions, the Forum is clearly aware of the importance of the issues at stake and the significance of the responses that must be provided. Between advocacy, reflection, demonstration through evidence, mobilisation and calls to action, this edition affirms its convictions:

- 7 political plenary sessions bring together panels of political figures and representatives from major SSE institutions or networks called upon to express the challenges, visions and conditions for sustainable, inclusive development rooted in local communities.
- 4 thematic plenary sessions invite leading figures to discuss major current issues for those who bring the SSE to life.

169 round tables

The 169 round tables were organized on the basis of contributions from from across the SSE ecosystem on five continents following a call for projects by the Scientific Committee in July 2024.

Other round tables are organized by the GSEF Network and its members (reported by Gsef).

7 pathways are available, allowing you to better organize your participation in the round tables according to your areas of interest.

Government initiatives promoting the SSE

This edition of the Global SSE Forum comes at a crucial time on the international stage, just a few days before the World Social Forum in Doha, which will bring together heads of state and international organisations to accelerate the establishment of a new global social contract. How are states strengthening the recognition of the SSE by international organisations? How are they helping to promote SSE at the continental level in a turbulent context? What national policy should be pursued for SSE, and with what resources?

Ideas and actions: all over the world, its actors have long been developing, and today more than ever, other ways of producing, sharing, protecting, and innovating, serving both people and the planet. The Jean Jaurès Foundation proposes to showcase and debate its ideas and practices, which are building a different future every day, on all five continents.

African SSE dynamics in the context of Agenda 2063 and the territorialization of the SDGs: challenges and conditions for strengthening SSE as a lever for a just and endogenous transition

In May 2023, the 6th GSEF World Forum on the SSE was held for the first time in Africa, in Dakar. This forum, which brought together more than 5,000 participants, was a decisive moment in the development and recognition of the SSE on the African continent. From the adoption by the African Union of a ten-year strategy for the SSE, to the adoption by African states of an institutional framework dedicated to the SSE or strategies in favor of the SSE, to the emergence of SSE ministries linking it to specific issues such as crafts, the informal sector, solidarity, microfinance, the fight against poverty, etc. These dynamics are promoting a stronger African presence in international SSE forums. Those of the GSEF offer a tremendous opportunity to gain a better understanding of the specificities of African SSE.

Local SSE policies: what ambitions for scaling up?

Plenary session organized by GSEF and CIRIEC (Centre for Research and Information on Public and Social Economy)

Previously characterized by a fragmented approach (divided between legal families) and sometimes limited to the remedial function of the SSE, new local SSE policies are turning it into a pluralistic and transformative socio-economic model capable of meeting the challenges of sustainability and inclusion.

- Is this simply a modification of the system, allowing the SSE to coexist alongside a capitalist economy that remains the norm?
- Where do these new policies have the potential to change this system by rebuilding it around the SSE, its rules, processes and organizations?

This plenary session aims to bring together, share and discuss the work carried out by the GSEF and CIRIEC on local SSE policies.

PLENARY SESSION

Plenary Room — Jeanne Deroin

When a dystopia becomes reality, where does the SSE stand?

The rise of dictatorships and authoritarian regimes around the world, the weakening of traditional democracies, the return to obscurantism and the growing importance of technical solutions are shaping a world that we thought was reserved for the imagination of fiction writers. Faced with these upheavals, for which it holds part of the solution, will the SSE offer firm resistance or will it be among the first victims of these abuses?

This plenary session will open up a collective and beneficial space for analysis and responses.

Panelists:

- Mr David Cobb, Coordinator of the US Social Economy Network and member of the RIPESS Board of Directors, United States
- Mr Benoît Hamon, President of ESS France

- Ms Anne Savinel Barras, President of Amnesty International France

Continental dynamics – European Union: national SSE strategies – Supporting the development of the social economy as a driver of growth in Europe

At the time of the mid-term review of the European Social Economy Plan adopted in December 2021, the European SSE community fears massive setbacks and scaled-back political ambitions. Five countries, brought together by an OECD IAT, will present the progress made in developing their national SSE strategies during this panel discussion, following the European Council's recommendation of November 27, 2023, which encourages Member States to adopt a specific national strategy to support and develop the social and solidarity economy (SSE).

Plenary Room — Jeanne Deroin

Following the recognition of the SSE by international organizations, it is now time for action

In this International Year of Cooperatives proclaimed by the United Nations, the Global Forum is part of a busy international agenda, between the 4th Conference on Financing for Development (FF4D) and on the eve of the second World Summit for Social Development in Doha in November. Since gaining international recognition in 2022 and 2023, the SSE has been seen as a key lever for achieving the 17 SDGs of the 2030 Agenda.

How can we continue to implement the various recommendations and resolutions in practice? This plenary session will take stock of the situation by asking organizations to confirm their role in the SSE and questioning them on the practical scope of the commitments made and the action plans implemented.

The future lies in the regions – testimonials from mayors and local governments PART 1

The future lies with local areas and the people who live and work there. In a fluctuating and uncertain global context, this scale empowers local communities and enables them to develop robust local responses to societal and environmental challenges. The GSEF network, founded in 2013, emphasises the role of local governments and mayors by affirming their crucial role in governance and in resolving the major challenges of the 21st century, whether climate change, social cohesion or inequality. These two plenary sessions illustrate this conviction and highlight the fundamental partnerships between local governments and civil society, accompanied by a renewal of democratic processes and the need for ongoing dialogue. They will offer an overview of initiatives and experiences from around the world, providing inspiration for other elected officials and actors in the SSE.

Financing the SSE, the challenge of resources

The issue of financing SSE actors is a major concern throughout the world, both in terms of resource mobilization and governance. Re-examined financing mechanisms and economic rules must enable a massive redirection of investment towards the SSE. What virtuous alliances between governments, development finance institutions and communities will enable the principles of the SSE to be anchored in financial governance, taking into account local realities? How can we move from finance that serves a minority to finance that serves people, territories and the planet? To discuss this, the speakers in this two-part plenary session will present their visions of finance based on solidarity, ethics, democracy and social justice.

Part 1 – How can we secure funding for the SSE to strengthen its position in the wider economy?

Plenary Room — Jeanne Deroin

Decent work, a necessity for empowerment

In many developing countries, the informal economy remains a central reality. In so-called developed countries, it is the very nature of the relationship to work that is changing. For better, but also for worse, when this change goes hand in hand with precariousness and intensified forms of economic and social domination. The rise of gig work is a striking illustration of this.

In this context, what levers can the social and solidarity economy activate to organise workers regardless of their status? How can we ensure decent working conditions and real social protection for all? Can the SSE offer a credible alternative to the dominant model and rebalance the balance of power? This session will bring together analyses, testimonials and courses of action.

PLENARY SESSION

Plenary Room — Jeanne Deroin

Could more economic democracy be the solution?

The prevailing model considers economic growth to be the sole indicator of the health of our societies. In light of rising social inequalities and the accelerating ecological crisis, this dogma is now being called into question. Among the measures that can be implemented, economic citizenship offers a promising avenue. Giving citizens a greater role in economic decisions would allow for better integration of social and environmental issues that are often neglected. This plenary session will explore how to re-embed democracy in the economy in order to imagine a fairer and more sustainable model of development.

A committed Marketplace

All 3 days from 4 pm to 8 pm

Would you like to bring back a meaningful souvenir from your visit to Bordeaux? What could be better than visiting the Marketplace at Hangar 14.

More than 35 actors and actresses from the SSE from Nouvelle-Aquitaine and elsewhere will be presenting local alternatives to our production and consumption patterns in the following sectors :

- sustainable food,
- craftsmanship and design,
- culture,
- second-hand goods and reuse.

This is an opportunity to discover the organizations and purchase the products on offer at the stands.

Have a drink on site

A refreshment bar will offer fresh juices produced and sold every day from 4 pm to 8 pm.

It will be run by young people from Flashcoop implemented by the Coop Alpha Activity and Employment Cooperative and the Entr-Autres Association.

This welcoming space will allow visitors to the Forum to refresh themselves while supporting an initiative driven by collective energy.

Flashcoop is much more than just a refreshment bar: it is a cooperative entrepreneurship project run by young people aged 17 to 25. For two weeks, they create and manage their own business, from designing the offering to marketing it. This experience is an immersion in the Social and Solidarity Economy, where learning takes place through action and teamwork.

A Bodega space will also be open every day from 5:30 pm to 10 pm on Wednesday and until 11 pm on Thursday and on Friday for snacks and drinks to toast a different way of doing economics!

Major conferences

Free access for registered participants to the Forum, upon presentation of your badge

These meetings bring together journalists, researchers, community leaders and experts to fuel collective reflection on current issues.

These conferences are part of the series «Inventing Tomorrow: Eco Meetings» organized by Bordeaux City Council, Alternatives Économiques and Carenews.

Wednesday 29 October

Anti-ecological backlash: how are the media resisting?

From 7 pm to 8 pm

Hosted by Catherine André, Deputy Editor-in-Chief at Alternatives économiques

With: Hervé Kempf, Publishing Director of Reporterre, managed by a non-profit public interest association, and Charles Lucazeau, Co-founder of Coop Médias, a citizen-led cooperative of independent media outlets

The theme of the anti-ecological backlash is becoming a staple topic for editorialists as a matter of course. Carbon tax, low-emission zones, wind turbines, agricultural standards, etc.: the ecological transition has become unpopular in the face of the measures implemented. But what is the reality?

On the one hand, we see that the ecological issue is marked by increasingly pronounced social divisions and, on the other, that a gap is widening between citizens' demands for ecological transition and political offerings that are increasingly hostile to it. With capital seeking to control the public sphere and dictate the agenda, how are independent media outlets resisting?

Thursday 30 October

Funding, freedoms, etc.: are associations at risk?

From 7 pm to 8 pm

Hosted by Camille Dorival, Editor-in-chief of Carenews

With: Claire Thoury, President of the Mouvement Associatif

«The majority of our associations are on their last legs,» warns the Mouvement Associatif. The reasons: budget restrictions, but also late payments, administrative complexity, challenges to associative freedoms, increasing social needs, etc.

Yet associations play an essential role in our society: without them, there would be less social cohesion, less support for the most disadvantaged, less care for the elderly, less childcare, less access to sporting and cultural activities, and so on.

What threats do associations face? What is their role in society? How can we mobilize and take action to preserve these intermediary bodies, which often compensate for the failings of the welfare state?

«SSE / conventional economy, cooperation for the benefit of local areas»

Through round tables and one-on-one meetings, these discussions explore possible cooperation between economic actors from all walks of life.

On the agenda: reflection on new development models, sharing inspiring experiences and highlighting initiatives that are transforming our regions.

Round tables

Wednesday 29 October

Can SSE and conventional enterprises work together to build a desirable future?

From 6 pm to 7 pm

It is clear that social economy enterprises and conventional enterprises have little interaction with each other. Is this due to a lack of knowledge or prejudice?

Yet don't the challenges we face compel us to join forces? Will cooperation develop to meet the challenges that await us? How? Where are the obstacles and possible levers? Can the desirable future for us today and for future generations be the pretext for dialogue and action, and can local areas be fertile ground for new modes of development?

With:

- Matthieu Constant, ESS 35 Regional Group
- Eric Delannoy, TENZING
- Alain Gross, Écosphère AGGELOS
- Asteire Vauthier, Maison de l'Emploi de Bordeaux

Moderation:

- Marie-Laure Dufau, Consultant

Thursday 30 October

SSE: an inspiring example for new development models?

From 6 pm to 7 pm

At a time when crises and pandemics threaten, the search for new development models is becoming a major concern; the time has come for a paradigm shift. In this quest, how can the Social and Solidarity Economy inspire us?

Its territorial roots, the values it upholds, its governance model... These are all topics worth considering. But are we ready to change? Are we determined to do things differently, and under what conditions? A new path to sustainable and equitable development is possible, but it will undoubtedly require a change in the way we think about the economy and business.

With:

- Fabrice Periac, S-Team Experience
- Marjolaine Pin, Impact France
- Clément Roncin, Barreau de Bordeaux
- Charlie Tronche, HelloAsso
- Tassadit Zerdani, CÉRSÉ

Moderation:

- Marie-Laure Dufau, Consultant

- Anne Viossat, President of the Re-plantes association

When the SSE inspires business: inclusion and wellbeing at work

From 8:50 pm to 9:10 pm

By combining approaches from the social and solidarity economy with those of the conventional world, Princ'ESS offers a new vision of work. Its hybrid model demonstrates that inclusion and attention to well-being can inspire more humane and effective management practices.

With: L'Autre Institut (Princ'ESS)

- Chantal Villotta-Germain, Head of RETH Conseils, HR/QVCT/CSR specialist and coordinator of the Futur Lab Préventica

Friday 31 October

The alternative economy

From 6 pm to 7 pm

Why don't the SSE and the conventional economy cooperate more often? The aim of dialogue is to break down prejudices, highlighting both real and perceived differences and similarities, but also to identify areas of common ground. It is possible and necessary to 'build common ground' through cooperation, finding common ground in the territorial responsibility of businesses, whether they are part of the SSE or the conventional economy.

In partnership with Invest in Bordeaux

Avec :

- Timothée Duverger, Lecturer-researcher, Chair of the Scientific Committee of the Global SSE Forum Bordeaux GSEF 2025

This 7th edition of the Global Social and Solidarity Economy Forum would not have been possible, nor would it have offered such a rich programme, without the involvement of numerous organisations and, behind them, all those who have been working for two years to prepare it.

The Forum relies on partnerships with actors committed to the SSE.

Official partners

«As France's leading mutual health and social protection provider, the VYV Group is delighted to lend its full support to the 7th edition of the Global SSE Forum, a unique international event that plays a key role in promoting the SSE.

The Forum will be an opportunity for different countries and generations to meet, for inspiring exchanges, and also to highlight the concrete solutions offered by the SSE to meet societal challenges.»

« With €1 billion devoted each year to financing the SSE and 130 account managers dedicated exclusively to this sector throughout the country, it was obvious for the Caisse d'Épargne to get involved in this 7th edition of the Global SSE Forum.

In line with its daily community outreach activities – as the leading bank for protected persons, the leading partner of France Active in the SSE sector and the leading partner of the regional SSE chambers – the Caisse d'Épargne will be fully involved in this major event for all SSE associations and enterprises. »

Global organization of local governments and civil society networks for Social and Solidarity Economy

An international organization...

The GSEF (Global Forum for Social and Solidarity Economy) is an international organization of local governments and civil society networks committed to promoting the social and solidarity economy (SSE) as a means of achieving inclusive and sustainable local development.

Created in 2013, the GSEF stands apart from existing international SSE initiatives and networks. Its focus on the role of local governments is a clear affirmation of their crucial role in governance and in addressing the major challenges of the 21st century, whether climate change, social cohesion or inequality.

The GSEF is convinced that systemic change begins at the local level, based on a partnership between civil society and the public and private sectors, with the ambition that the SSE will scale up and become the norm for tomorrow's economy, integrating collective management of common goods. The GSEF promotes various forms of the social and solidarity economy, including social enterprises, cooperatives, foundations, mutual societies, and self-help groups, which place people before profits.

In addition to its biennial forum on the SSE, which has become one of the largest international gatherings, the GSEF operates in five key areas:

-  Capacity building for local governments (co-construction of SSE public policies)
-  Exchange of experiences and practices
-  Research and publications
-  Creation and support of local and national SSE networks
-  International advocacy for the international recognition of the SSE

The GSEF has significant capacity for convergence, through its numerous partnerships and strengthened collaborations, as well as its capacity for action.

The GSEF cooperates with international networks, which are also members. This collective action makes it possible to join forces according to priorities in order to promote the SSE and, with it, a transformation of development models. Through its advocacy work, the GSEF has contributed significantly to the international recognition of the SSE by the most multilateral institutions, culminating in the momentum of 2022-2023 with the OECD recommendation, the universal definition of the International Labour Conference (ILC), and the resolution of 18 April 2023 adopted by the United Nations General Assembly.

... with a local focus

In October 2021, the GSEF General Assembly selected Bordeaux as the location for its permanent secretariat, previously based in Seoul, South Korea.

The city's bid was supported by four partner local authorities: the City of Bordeaux, Bordeaux Métropole, the Department of Gironde and the Nouvelle-Aquitaine Region, in association with the Regional Chamber of Social and Solidarity Economy Nouvelle-Aquitaine (CRESS) representing actors and networks of actors.

The GSEF is chaired by Pierre Hurmic, Mayor of Bordeaux (deputy Bordeaux Métropole), with Stéphane Montuzet, President of CRESS NA, as co-chair. Since the establishment of continental co-chairs in 2021, the Nouvelle-Aquitaine Region has held this position for Europe (deputy Gironde Departmental Council).

Key figures

- 84 members from 37 countries on five continents, including 24 local governments, 7 local government networks and 23 civil society networks

An event: the Global SSE Forum

In 10 years, the GSEF has become a recognized global network, demonstrating its ability to mobilise a wide range of actors from all continents. This is particularly illustrated by the success of the last six editions of the GSEF Global Forums (Seoul, Montreal, Bilbao, Mexico City and Dakar). The organization of this major event is entrusted every two years to a host city by the GSEF. Bordeaux GSEF 2025 represents the 7th edition of the Global SSE Forum.

The large number of participants demonstrated strong mobilization in Senegal and Africa. This edition concluded with the reading of the Dakar Declaration in the closing plenary session.
